The Italian Job

Photographed by BEAUTY INTERNATIONAL

Serummy Italian dishes have been high on the Kuave menu lately, but unless things drastically change, Betina could be the last one to grace our pages for several months. Yes, we're running to the end of this series, and should we fail to receive a large sum of money from the Italian government, we'll go onto a different subject. Until then, these pictures of Betina are to be held hostage in the staff sleaze cupboard...

Got a nasty itch in your nethers and can't reach it? Partner not coming up to scratch? Fear of the opposite sex? Fear of the sex right next to you? We've got the perfect solution. BETTE NOIR, Knave's own sexual paracetamol will kiss it better...

What's YOUR PROBLEM?

Q: The woman I am seeing has told me that she really gets excited whenever I play with and run my tongue around her nipples and breasts. I know that they're supposed to be erogenous zones, but she says that if I do it long enough, she can come. I haven't had a lot of experience with women (I'm 21) but I'd like to know if this is possible? — P.T., Humberside.

A: Indeedy, yes, lamb. Your girlfriend has sensitive breasts, and lucky her! There's more than one way to have an orgasm, you know. Anywhere there is a profusion of nerve endings, there's a potential erogenous zone (I have this little area on the small of my back — but never mind). Anyway, breasts are obviously a common site — toes are fun, too, in case you're thinking of branching out. Practice on an ice-cream cone for real mastery of tongue-technique. After her breasts, switch to her clitoris, and see if you can get a Second Coming...

Q: When I tried to have sex with a girl, doggy-style, she didn't get turned-on, although she said she felt fine. I'd like to be able for her to enjoy that position as much as I do. Any advice you could give me? — J.H., Sheffield.

A: Matter of fact, I do. She just needs more stimulation with extra loving care, that's all. You don't need both your hands to hang on, if you're kneeling. And you'll find that if she's on her all-fours at the very edge of the bed or table or whatever, you can stand, for even more manual freedom. Your fingers can do lovely things to her front while she's pleasing your front with her back. Let her show you what feels best. You can also arouse her by rubbing your penis against her before you enter her vagina, then use your palm or fingers to get her over the top when you do!

Q: Do you have any phone numbers or addresses for me? I've recently become curious about latex clothing, etc. But I don't know where to start to get more information... I live in a small town, which doesn't help! — J.K., Bradford.

as closely as you can with a pair of blunt-ended little scissors, first, then either use an electric razor or lather up well and use a regular one with a NEW blade. Don't saw with the blade back and forth, just use small little swipes. Afterwards, apply some petroleum jelly or unperfumed oil, and let your skin recover a bit! And concentrate, dear, or you'll end up with an operation no civilised country does (or should do!) any more.

A: Write to Skin Two magazine (enclose £3 for the cost of a copy) at: BCM Box 2071, London WC1N 3XX. It's full of information that might be useful to you about organisations, manufacturers and shops which carry rubber and other goods, and contact box numbers for rubber parties, if you're so inclined. Come bouncing back and tell me how you get on.

Q: I'd like to try shaving my pubic hair off to surprise my husband some night, because he's mentioned the idea, once or twice. I've asked my friends about how exactly to do it, but they never have. Have you? I'm sensitive around there, you see... — D.W., London.

A: Uh-huh. Heart-shaped and completely Lolita. Trim

Now, when the fur begins to grow back, it'll be itchy, but whatever you do, don't scratch, just press with the pads of your fingers (not in public...). Use a hair conditioner, rinse in your shower and keep the area moist with lotion. Something else to consider; since hair acts as a kind of dry lubricant during sex, things may not be as comfortable, so take your lovemaking as gently as you need to, or you'll glow in the dark with all that friction.

No doubt about it, though, you'll have fun when he first uses his tongue! Lovely...

Q: I'm happily married to a woman a few years older than I am. Oral sex has always been just great, but since she's been going through her menopause, she has trouble getting wet enough, and she gets sore. She also experiences some pain after she goes to the bathroom. — E.R., Cardiff.

A: Some KY Jelly or similar product should do wonders. So should a little more talking with her doctor (or, if she gets no satisfaction, with a woman's clinic) — any kind of pain after urination should be discussed with a professional. Zillions of women have hiccups like dryness during menopause (as well as for other reasons) — no reason why sex shouldn't be as terrific as before, so not to worry!

Q: I know that you must get hundreds of letters a month from guys who aren't exactly satisfied with the length of their cocks. Rationally, I also realise that most women don't really care about length, that it's all in our (men's) minds. But the fact is, mine is really very small — even when it's hard it's still smaller than other guys', so what I'm really wondering is — isn't there anything surgical for less-than-normal sized people? A woman once made fun of it... — Robert, Channel Islands.

A: Pet. There still is nothing and were it not for this idiotic, obscene MYTH that men still love to push at each other, there shouldn't have to be! You've given me your measurements, and you're still delightfully "normal". Great sex, as all women and men know, has to do with technique and attitude. A huge cock doesn't mean a damn thing. The woman who laughed has got other problems, baby, and you just happened to be in the wrong place. Typical, she isn't. None of the others did, right? Remember that!

Carmel

This is exactly the kind of set that inspires rubbish like "C'mon baby light my fire," isn't it? But we thought it was a pretty right on idea for this issue — you know, it being flaming June and all that. Oh alright, I'll shut up. But doesn't Carmel look cool?

Leather-clad and pert-breasted, wicked little Diana enjoys a teasing roll in red satin in these pictures by the inimitable Austin Legrew. Cursed as he may be with a ridiculously stupid name, Austin does have quite a talent. Not sure if it's as a photographer, though.

The cool looking lady against the ice-blue background is Eileen, this month's winner of the Knave Hot 'n' Sweaty award. Just right for an English summer, eh? Except that I imagine the weathermen will be predicting storms, not heatwaves. As global warming raises the Earth's temperature and the ice-caps slowly melt, we take the lead in being aware of planet issues, and energy conservation. For example, the heat generated by these pictures is enough to run a small pair of underpants for several weeks...

Yes, that's more like it, a bit of wet sex. Nothing like laying by the pool and other such innuendos. This is probably the most interesting way of washing a shirt I've ever seen, and certainly beats anything my local launderette could come up with. I think in future advertisers should use Gayle if they want to show the benefits of their new 'eco' washing powders, or clothes softners. Imagine the amount of blokes who'd rush out and buy the products on Gayle's recommendation. No longer would adverts be the boring bits in-between the even more boring programmes. I would advise any advertising men to think long and hard about it as they study these pictures.

Let me take a good look at you, Dear Heart.

And now without la petite frock plastique . . .

. . . Without the underwear and that dreary suspender belt, if you please, Miss!

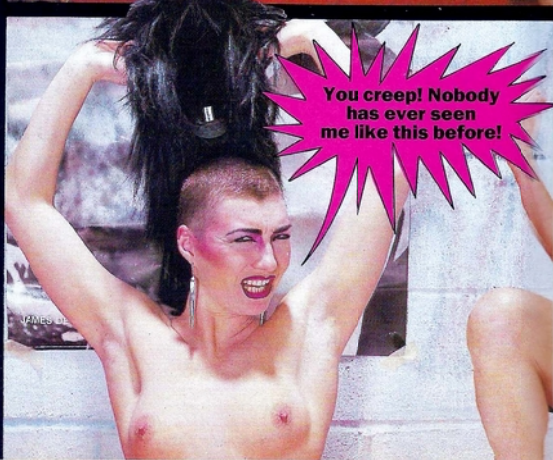

. . . and the stockings must go, Sweetie.

That's the lot. This is me as nature made me.

It most certainly is not! Get the wig off!

You creep! Nobody has ever seen me like this before!

Even the makeup must go!

Now, THAT is how nature made you, Sweetie.

At this point we start your reconstruction with slightly fuller lips . . .

How do I look, Peregrine?

Stand up and mince around a bit, please.

. . . and a different wig.

Thank God for that! I felt naked without hair.

LIFE AS A POP-SINGER CAN BE DIFFICULT IN A PROFESSION WHERE IMAGE IS EVERYTHING.

RAUNCHY-
RAUNCHY-
WHA-WHA-WHA!

I'll hire a stylist. He can revamp your image before tomorrow's performance.

Wowee! I'm gonna be a real person!

THE NEXT DAY...

What's your problem, Medusa?

I'm fed-up with my lousy act!

This image is getting me down!

What's wrong with it?

Hello... I'm Peregrine Decamp. You were expecting me?

Yeah... Come on in.

Your manager gave me a bijoux tinkle on the phone and said you are fed-up with you. He would like me to re-design the bodywork, as it were.

This gear makes me look like a Black Widow Spider!

Well, what sort of image would you prefer?

I dunno... Just sorta more human, I guess.

Have you any idea how you'd like me to make you look, Sweetie?

Yeah! Any whichway but this!

Ooh, this is going to be sooo exciting! Having a whole person to play with!

You look fabulous, dahling!

Slip into some pale, sexy undies.

I don't like these. Black is more sexy.

Please yourself. Just change the underwear and pop a frock on, and the transformation will be complete.

Now I feel like a million dollars.

You did a grand job. Here's twenty quid for your trouble.

That'll do to be going on with. I'll invoice you for the balance of £980!

What do you think of yourself, now?

I adore myself, of course.

And what you think of me?

You nearly look worth what that crook charged! Now, get onstage and knock 'em dead!

Will you please stop playing at being Marilyn Monroe, and get on with your act!

RAUNCHY-
RAUNCHY-
WHA-WHA-WHA!

Which only goes to show that you can change the singer as much as you like, but the melody lingers on!

Lilith's a girl who likes the finer things in life: soft, silkly lingerie, brass-framed beds and large sums of money. So what on earth is she doing appearing in a tacky mag like ours? Well, we've got the negs, mate, that's why. Oh, we offered her loads of dosh, too. That, and the thought of spending the day in a bedroom with snapper Albert Hall was just too much for her.

LOUISA

"Louisa? I bet she's a bit of a teaser!!" quipped the Dep Ed of Fiesta, in his usual frivolous manner. But his words were as empty as his head. For here is the utterly lascivious Louisa letting it all loll out. And what a lot of lovely lolling there is. "I suppose you're right," admitted old JD Heard (his name rhymes with...). He mused for a minute, and said, "Hmmm, Louisa, she's a solid gold geezer!" And who can disagree with that !?

Say hello to Nina, our blonde Californian bimbette of the month. Born in Newport Beach, California, Nina qualifies for the title "beach bunny", even though she has to work indoors all day and only gets to see the sun at weekends. Woah, what a bummer, man. It's weird, she has to be the only beach girl never to appear on a crappy American TV show – still, she can but hope, eh?

My First Time

Everyone remembers their first times. Whether it's the first time they got drunk, had sex, whatever, it sticks in the mind. But what about models? They all have a first time, too. And that's where Knave comes in. If you have a secret passion to become a model, then why not enter 'My First Time' and make it happen!

Patsy

Beware all those with weak stomachs as you gaze at this set of our First Timer Patsy. Not that there's anything wrong with her, quite the opposite; in fact, she's more likely to weaken your knees, but the sofa... now that's a different matter. It looks like Walt Disney threw up, or something. Still, at least if the couch made you feel queasy you could put your head on Patsy's lap and gaze up at her freckles. Or whatever caught your eye first...

All you need to do is send us at least three nude polaroids or prints of yourself, along with the entry form, and we take it from there. Who knows, your 'first time' as a model might be just around the corner!
